£1,000 is on offer in stage contest

DETAILS have been unveiled of a charity theatre competition which will see one lucky winner given £1,000 towards a career in the performing arts.

The Melanie Till Memorial Fund has organised the event, which is set to culminate in a gala performance for 10 finalists in front of judges and an anticipated sell-out crowd at the Cannock Prince of Wales Centre in June.

In 2010 the fund, set up to remember the life of teacher Melanie Till who died in a car accident in 2008, organised A Schools' Celebration in Song, where children from several schools performed alongside BBC Last Choir Standing finalists Dreamz.

Auditions

This year's gala event, called Follow That Dream, is the biggest organised by the charity to date and talented youngsters are being sought for auditions, which will take place on May 6.

Organiser Bryan Till, Melanie's dad, said: "This will be a very special gala event, which will enable the finalists to exhibit their various talents. I have already enlisted the expertise of a number of show business professionals."

ellery from a range of collections that the two friends have assembled. The collections include African Tribal, Bling, Candy Couture, Floral and Classic.

Leanne and Clare will also be holding a raffle for The Ectopic Pregnancy Trust.

Leanne, aged 26, who worked in Human Resources before deciding to launch Boutique à la Lush, said: "Myself and Clare have been friends for many years and both have a very keen interest in fashion so we came up with the idea to set up Boutique à la Lush. We want to offer stylish handbags and jewellery which is affordable for everyone. So far we have had a tremendous response.

"We also wanted to raise some money on the day for charity and so we chose The Ectopic Pregnancy Trust as it is such a worthwhile cause."

Ruling on prayers is debated by parish

A PARISH council is to become the first authority in the area to debate whether to scrap prayers at the start of its meetings.

Penkridge parish council will open its meeting with prayers - before holding a discussion on whether to ban them. The meeting is tonight (Thursday) at the Haling Dene Centre, Cannock Road, at 7.30pm. A councillor who wants prayers totally removed from the agenda has triggered the debate.

The council has listed prayers before official business, in line with a High Court ruling. Councillors have been invited, but not summoned, to attend before the formal start of the meeting if they want to say prayers.

Summoned

They will later discuss the High Court ruling on the practice, which declared saying prayers was only lawful "provided councillors are not formally summoned to attend".

Members will be asked to consider banning prayers completely, or continue with the compromise.

South Staffs Council's agendas state proceedings open with prayers.

Parish council chairman Pet Hughes said: "I feel we need to get the whole council's perspective."

Warning of disruption

DRIVERS and pedestrians are being warned of disruption as footpaths are upgraded in Hednesford.

In a £160,000 project, Staffordshire County Council will improve Greenheath Road from Cannock Road to its junction with Broadhurst Green.

Work will start on March 19 and take 15 weeks.

The footpaths will be resurfaced and damaged kerbs will be replaced.

Youngsters have a blast

YOUNGSTERS are flying high at a Rugeley school after launching a rocket from their playground.

Hundreds of pupils took on as the Starchaser rocket was sent soaring at Hagley Park Academy. The Burnt-hill Lane school is also displaying a 30ft rocket as part of activities to ignite children's interest in science.

Education bosses are trying to capitalise on the subject's growing popularity, which has been inspired by TV presenter Professor Brian Cox. He met Cannock Chase High School pupils at the Science Discovered event in London at the end of last year.

Hagley Park is also preparing for a visit to the capital.

The Year 7 rugby team is playing against Cannock Academy at Twickenham on April 17 ahead of a charity match.

A TENACIOUS Cannock woman is going back on the fundraising trail to raise thousands of pounds for her cancer-stricken mother.

Toni Collier was devastated to learn that her mother Gillian, aged 63, had been diagnosed with bowel cancer last year.

Doctors discovered the cancer during what was Gillian's final mandatory check-up, five years after being given the all clear from the same disease.

The news came just one month after Toni, who was formerly in the Territorial Army, returned from climbing Mount Kilimanjaro, a fundraising expedition which raised £4,700 for Marie Curie Cancer Care.

Awareness

Toni had previously scaled Snowdon, Ben Nevis and Scafell Pike as part of a personal Three Peaks challenge, but climbed Kilimanjaro for charity because a number of relatives had been affected by cancer.

After undergoing chemotherapy for her second battle with bowel cancer, Gillian has again been given the all-clear and Toni said she was keen to raise awareness that bowel cancer was a treatable condition if caught early.

Toni is running the London Marathon next month and hopes to accumulate £2,000

Toni Collier and mother Gillian for charity Beating Bowel Cancer. Toni, who works for Cannock forklift truck materials firm Briggs Equipment UK, said: "Luckily my mum caught it early but it could have gone the other way."

"It put my mind to doing something to raise awareness and the marathon seemed like a good idea. Training is going okay and I'm up top 14 miles so far."

"Obviously thinking of my mum and the great work the charity does will be a big motivation."

Toni is hosting a fundraising evening at The Soldier's Club, on Anglesey Street, Hednesford, on March 23, which will be a rock and pop night with a performance from Meat Loaf tribute act Maet Loaf. Tickets are £4.

Visit www.justgiving.com/toni-collier2012 to donate online via Toni's fundraising page, or call her on 07894 759956 for charity night tickets.

Donation to hospital

A CANNOCK couple whose prematurely born son died after just two days have raised £1,800 for a hospital neo-natal unit.

Amy and Richard Norton handed over a cheque to Birmingham Women's Hospital for the care staff had given to Leo Thomas Norton, who died in February last year after being born at 25 weeks.

As part of their fundraising exploits the couple, aged 21 and 25 respectively, held an event at the White Hart pub, on Wolverhampton Road, which included a raffle of 50 donated prizes. Richard had his legs waxed and a sponsored name the teddy bear competition was held.

Amy's mother Ann Podmore said: "They also donated a lot of tiny baby cardigans and hats to the hospital which had kindly been knitted by their neighbour Gladys Hilton."

"The hospital is putting a plaque on the wall in memory of Leo and the hard work his family put into raising funds for the unit." Last week Amy gave birth to a healthy baby girl call Lacey. Both are doing well.

Drivers to feel pinch as parking fees increase

MOTORISTS in Cannock and Rugeley are to be hit with an increase in parking charges from the start of next month. The rises will come into effect from April 1.

Reveller is hurt after assault on night out

A MAN was left lying on the ground with facial injuries following an assault in Cannock.

The 38-year-old victim was followed by a man and a woman as he left a nightclub on Saturday, February 25. He was set upon at the junction with Walsall Road and Avon Road at around 3am.

An ambulance checked him over at the time but he did not attend hospital until later that day.

Investigating officer DC Paul Whitehouse said: "We are keen to trace any witnesses who may have seen any part of this incident. We are particularly keen to speak to a cyclist and the occupants of several vehicles who were in the area at the time."

"We would also like to trace a woman who was in St Luke's churchyard as the three people involved went by and a man in a silver car who initially flagged officers down but didn't stay to give his details."

A 33-year-old man from Birmingham and a 26-year-old woman from Cannock were arrested and remain on police bail while enquiries continue.

Anyone with information is asked to contact DC Whitehouse at Staffordshire Police on 101 quoting incident number 151.

The costs are likely to hit motorists already feeling the pinch from spiralling fuel prices.

Fees in Beecroft Road, Cannock will increase by 10p, from the current £1 rate for up to two hours. Motorists parked between two and three hours will pay 30p more, from £2.40 to £2.70.

There will be a 40p increase from £3.20 to £3.60 for people parking between three to four hours, while parking between four and five hours will jump from £8 to £9. Motorists using the car park for five to six hours will see the price go from £10.50 to £11.50.

Similar charges are being proposed for the car park outside the civic centre, as well as those in Backcrofts, Danilo Road, and Avon Road.

Jump

All day parking at Cannock Railway Station will jump from £1.60 to £1.80.

Motorists in Rugeley are also facing an increase at car parks in Forge Road, St Paul's Road, at the Market Hall, Taylor's Lane, Market Street and Lichfield Street.

All will jump by 30p, from £2.10 to £2.40, for between two to three hours. The annual fee for a season ticket remains unchanged at £450.

Council leader Councillor George Adamson says the previous Liberal Democrat administration agreed the price hike during a previous budget.

However, councillor Tony Williams, a previous cabinet member, said the council leader could have taken the increase out of the new budget if he had wished.

sters aged up to five, and their parents, completed six or seven laps of the hall.

Armoury sale is off after row

TWO suits have armour which were to be auctioned off to raise funds for the Lichfield Bower have been withdrawn from sale in a row over their ownership.

The sale was meant to raise £40,000 for the annual fête, which this year takes place on Monday, June 4.

The cash-strapped Bower committee had put the 400-year-old suits up for auction only for the district council to claim it owns the armoury.

Four suits have been on display in Lichfield Heritage Centre since 1982 and the Bower committee, believing they were its property, have paid for their upkeep.

Gift

It was only when organisers announced their intention of selling two suits that the question of ownership was raised.

District councillor Margaret Stanhope said the suits were a gift left in the will of a John Bown in 1883 to the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens of Lichfield' and owned by the council.

Bower committee chairman Michael Mullarkey said: "We've paid for them to be maintained and thought they were ours."

"The situation has got to be sorted."

Volunteers dig deep for tree replanting

Volunteers take part in the tree replanting at Chasewater

MORE than 35 volunteers got stuck in to help rangers replant 100 trees at Chasewater Country Park.

The group was involved in moving young silver birch and oak trees from Anglesey Basin, where they were damaging rare heathland plants, and replanting them round a nearby pond.

Park ranger Ellen Williams, said: "The weather was perfect, and we had a good day. The trees are settling in well to their new location and I'd like to thank the volunteers for their work."

In celebration of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, everyone who took part was given a certificate and name tag for a tree they helped to replant.

Meanwhile, pupils in Burntwood have planted a copse within their schools' grounds.

And, because the trees are all native broadleaved, it means they will be growing into the next century – so the youngsters' own grandchildren will be able to inspect their handiwork.

The trees were planted with the aid of Active Kids and the Woodland Trust. Each school registered with Active Kids received a pack from the Woodland Trust, comprising 60 trees, 20 each of birch, rowan and cherry, as well as a special Royal Oak sapling grown from seeds collected on royal estates such as Sandringham and Windsor.

Kerry Flint and Heather Norman from Sainsbury's helped children from Chasetown Community School to plant the trees with three gardening club pupils and teacher Dean Peace.

Heather was also at the planting ceremony at St Joseph's and St Theresa's, along with parents and grandparents of reception and year 6 children. They created an avenue of trees leading up to the Royal Oak sapling.

Father's 'lost city' trek has children's charity in mind

A CANNOCK man is embarking on the challenge of a lifetime to raise thousands of pounds for a children's charity. Gary May is planning to visit Peru for 10 days in May.

The 31-year-old will trek along an ancient Inca path, through the Peruvian Andes and to the lost city of the Incas – Machu Picchu.

He hopes to raise £3,200, with money set to go to Action Medical Research, a nationwide charity which researches diseases and disabilities which affect children and babies.

Gary has organised a host of fundraising activities to help him reach his target, including a sponsored leg wax at South Staffordshire College's Cannock campus and a 1970s tribute night at the Pied Piper pub on Pye Green Road on March 22.

"The trek is over extremely challenging terrain, from snow capped mountains and glacial peaks, to green valleys and mountain lakes," Gary said.

"We will be visiting small villages and communities on the journey and reaching highs of 4,800 metres with nothing but a small tent between ourselves and the stars. I've never done anything like this before but I'm looking forward to it."

"I'm a parent myself and the charity does some great work. Also they're based down south in West Sussex which is where I'm from originally."

Fundraiser Gary May

The challenge has been two years in the making and Gary said he hoped as many people would support him.

Tickets for the Pie Piper night, which will also feature a raffle and a performance from Cannock artist Paul Gibson cost £4.

The leg waxing follows on May 9 and the college is also running a raffle.

Gary will depart for Peru a day later and the 31-year-old said it important he raised as much money as he could for such a good cause.

Plumbing is skipper's new pipe dream

Captain Andy Butler with his college trainers Darren Ayre and Steve Edis

Walsall FC captain Andy Butler is doing his NVQ level 2 in plumbing at Walsall training centre

WALSALL FC's captain is spending his time learning how to fix leaky pipes off the pitch as well as leaky defences on it.

Saddlers skipper Andy Butler said he wanted to learn the skills so he is not caught offside later in life.

The 28-year-old centre half, who lives in Hednesford, has started training for NVQ Level 2 in plumbing at the Walsall Training Centre in Green Lane, Walsall, one day a week. Centre manager Steve Edis said Butler had taken to the work like a duck to water.

Walsall fan Mr Edis said: "He is the first footballer we have had here, and he is doing really well."

Interested

"He's taken to it like a duck to water, and certainly hasn't had any red cards yet."

Butler, a father-of-one, said: "It's just something I'm interested in, and I have got to do something after football. It taxes your brain a bit with the problem-solving nature of it."

"I started not knowing how to sold pipes and how I can fit radiators."

But he said he had no plans to retire from the beautiful game just yet.

He and his wife, Caroline, 27, parents to three-year-old Ashton, are expecting a baby girl at the beginning of June.

THE BEST
OF PETER
RHODES

THE Royal Mail is to freeze the price of Christmas stamps for some pensioners and benefits claimants. So far, so good. Now, how about making it free for anyone under 12 to post a thank-you letter?

REJOICE, for the Olympics Minister Hugh Robertson says he is "increasingly confident" the 2012 Games will come in under the £9.3 billion budget.

You couldn't make it up. Let's not forget, the original estimate for these 16 days of running, jumping and drug-test dodging was £2.4 billion. Then it rose to £3.3 billion. As the sun rises, so does the Olympics budget. The £9.3 billion figure is merely the latest in a long line of predictions based more on hope than likelihood.

Inflate the budget often enough and eventually, the Games were bound to come in "under budget". Smoke and mirrors.

DAMMIT, we are not getting outraged enough about old people being patronised.

A report by a committee of charity bosses and NHS bigwigs declares that residents of care homes being referred to as "dear" or "chuck" without their permission should be regarded as severely as racist or sexist abuse.

This is a tall order. By now, most people get angry and embarrassed to hear the sort of racial terms which were in common use 50 years ago. We have learned to be outraged.

But could we, or should we, work up the same outrage over the issue of how old people are addressed by care workers? Is there really any similarity between calling an old lady "chuck" and calling a black person by the N-word?

I can't see it. Most old folk in care homes are desperately glad of any human contact. And a kind word is a kind word, even if it has not been officially approved by the guardians of political correctness.

□□□□□□□□

IT is best not to imagine the crippling cocktail of emotions that must be haunting the Sunday Times photographer Paul Conroy. Wounded in Syria and in despair, he was spirited to the safety of Lebanon. But in the mission to save this single Brit, 13 courageous Syrian volunteers were killed. How do you live with that?

□□□□□□□□

STATISTICS for our time. In the last decade the proportion of cider drinkers in Britain has soared from 42 to 47 per cent. I wonder if there has been a similar rise in the sale of incontinence pads and whippets on a string.

THE official line (which no-one believes) is that if the NHS offers free treatment to foreigners with HIV, fewer British people will contract the disease. The unofficial line (which everyone believes) is that if we offer free treatment for HIV, sufferers will flock here from all over the world and the infection rate will go through the roof.

A READER, quietly headbutting the plaster in frustration, reports that a "steering group" in his village has drawn up a shortlist of suggested names for the new library and health centre. He wonders what is wrong with Library and Health Centre.

Twins herald lambing season start

Harry Turner, Bradie Crooks, Harley Sneyd and Darryl Blake more with the first spring lambs at the Rodbaston campus

TWIN arrivals have heralded the start of the lambing season for students at South Staffordshire College.

The college farm, based at the college's Rodbaston campus, has enjoyed an excellent start to what is one of the agricultural calendar's busiest periods.

Students are dealing with 220 ewes who are expecting a total of 34 sets of triplets, 146 pairs of twins and 40 single births, making a total of around 400 lambs anticipated over the next few weeks. Farming staff and animal management students are providing 24-hour care to the sheep and their offspring.

Two lambing weekends are being held at Rodbaston's animal centre on March 17-18 and March 24-25. Rodbaston farm manager Jon Giles said: "The experience gained by the farm staff and students is important in the welfare and caring of the animals."

For Animal Centre opening times and details, contact the college on 0300 456 2424 or visit www.southstaffs.ac.uk

MPs quiz trust on visit to hospital

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley joined his Tory colleague, Stafford's Jeremy Lefroy, on a visit to Cannock Hospital.

They met with Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust chief executive Lyn Hill-Tout and chief executive of the Staffordshire Cluster of PCTs Graham Urwin.

The MPs took a walk around the hospital to see first hand the services being delivered and the patient experience. It was also an opportunity for the two to question the trust about the future of services.

Mr Burley said he was pleased to learn that more services for minor injuries would now be operated at Cannock. Patients needing X-rays and plastering for breaks or fractures will be able to get treatment at the hospital's Minor Injuries Unit (MIU) from April.

The unit already provides treatment for sprains and strains, broken bones, wound infections, minor burns and scalds, minor eye injuries and insect or animal bites.

Mr Burley said: "Cannock Hospital should be source of pride for the people of Cannock Chase."

Developers hail academy

DEVELOPERS say a scheme for a new £9.7m academy in Hednesford will transform the school into a prized community asset.

Planners last week gave the go-ahead for the scheme at the 900-pupil Staffordshire University Academy, formerly Blake Valley Technology College.

Birmingham-based Brooke Smith Planning says the buildings will be open for both educational and recreational purposes for up to 14 hours a day.

Work on site is due to start this month with the new building completed by September 2013.

Arrests in raid

THREE men were arrested following a drugs raid in Cheslyn Hay. Officers discovered cannabis vegetation and powder, believed to be Class A drugs, in Weston Drive, on Tuesday. The men, aged 22, 38 and 39, were arrested on suspicion of possessing drugs with intent to supply. They were released on police bail.

Van bursts into flames after hitting school wall

A VAN careered off the road, smashed into a Hednesford school and burst into flames. An eyewitness took the pictures of the crash in Greenheath Road.

Staff at Westhill Primary School were counting the cost as a perimeter wall was completely destroyed and damage caused to one of its buildings.

The van bursts into flames

The driver managed to climb out of the cab of his Vauxhall before the fire took hold and was not seriously hurt in the midnight smash.

Shaun Miles, headteacher at the 300-pupil school off High Mount Road, said parents dropping their children off at school told him about the crash.

"The van has mounted the pavement and careered into the perimeter wall, which has been demolished."

Part of the fencing has been damaged and part of the external wall of a school building as well," he said.

"Glass was littered everywhere and we had to check with the council it was alright to open. They have sent one of their building surveyors to assess the damage so we're awaiting the results of that."

Disappointed

He added: "We are obviously very disappointed but it's one of those things. A lot of the children are quite sad about what's happened - they are proud of their school and this has upset them."

Keith Bennett, aged 53, lives opposite the school. "I was upstairs and heard an almighty bang," the father of three said.

"I told one of my lads to call 999, got an extinguisher and rushed out. It was useless but fire crews were there within minutes."

The school opened as normal on Tuesday following the overnight crash on Monday.

Firefighters spent 40 minutes putting out the blaze.

Love be thy name after proposal

Luci Smith, aged 18, took advantage of the leap year to propose to Mike Love, 20

A TEENAGER sprang a surprise on her boyfriend by turning up at his work to pop the question. Luci Smith made the leap year proposal to mechanic Mike Love.

The 18-year-old, of Red Lion Crescent, Norton Canes, had been planning it for a while and had even been to a jewellers to pick out a ring.

She plucked up the courage to visit Mike at work at Karl Fisher Autos, in Burdock Close, Hawks Green, and asked the 20-year-old to marry her.

Luci has been with Mike, of Tranter Crescent, Heath Hayes, for almost 10 months. They both attended Norton Canes High, but didn't know each other there and were later introduced through a friend.

Luci, who works at Tennants Craft Bakery in Heath Hayes, said: "It was unbelievable when he said yes."

A DERELICT Cannock pub could be demolished to make way for homes.

The Moon Under The Water in Huntington Terrace Road, Chadsmoor, was closed down after its licence was revoked in 2009.

If plans are approved, the pub will be knocked down and six two-storey homes built. Four homes will have two bedrooms and two will have three.

The Friends of Norton Canes is spearheading the campaign alongside Norton Canes Community Partnership. Funding is sought to help launch regeneration plans.

The aim is to turn the park into an area that people can use for recreation, with educational, historical and artistic information put on display boards.

A fitness trail, fitness equipment and pathways also feature in the plans, with new landscaping aimed at providing a picturesque setting to enhance the village.

Fundraising activities have been lined up to help pay for the redevelopment with PCSOs Neil Griffiths and Andy Turnock planning to run the Stafford Half Marathon later this month. Community Partnership development officer Tracey Gould said sponsors were needed.

Appeal made for Olympic torch volunteers

Niki Taylor is searching for volunteers

VOLUNTEERS are being sought to ensure the carrying of the Olympic torch throughout the region goes off without a hitch.

Thousands will line the streets as the torch is carried by 8,000 inspirational people across the country.

It will come within 10 miles of 95 per cent of people in the UK, Isle of Man, Guernsey and Jersey, and volunteers are needed along the whole route.

The 70-day Olympic Torch Relay will start at Land's End, Cornwall on May 19 before travelling 8,000 miles around the UK. It comes into our region on May 24, when the torch travels through Bewdley and Kidderminster and on May 30 it will be in Gnosall, Haughton and Stafford.

June 30 will see it travel through Streethay, Lichfield, Hopwas, Great Wyrley, Newtown, Bloxwich, Leamore, Birchills, Walsall, Willenhall, Wolverhampton, Dudley, Oldbury, West Bromwich and Smethwick, and it will hit Birmingham on July 1.

South Staffordshire Council is the first authority to issue an appeal for help. Other councils say they are still working on the numbers of volunteers needed.

Tourism officer Niki Taylor, aged 38, said: "We need 90 people to help marshal on the day and we are expecting thousands to fill the streets, especially as Cannock isn't on the route and Great Wyrley is probably the place people will head to."

Stafford Council says around 250 volunteers will be needed in the town centre, Haughton and Gnosall.

South Staffordshire Council has set up a facebook page - facebook.com/southstaffs2012 - and a twitter account to keep people updated on the plans.

To become a volunteer, download an application form from www.sstaffs.gov.uk/2012 or call 01902 696000.

Roadworks 'undermining' bus service says operators

BUS company bosses say their services have been thrown into turmoil by roadworks. A number of highways schemes are taking place across Cannock, Rugeley and Lichfield.

The works have led to huge tailbacks, causing passengers to be delayed.

Arriva Midlands says the works should not have been allowed to take place at the same time and claims the reliability of their buses has been "undermined".

An emergency timetable has been introduced on the No 70 Cannock-Wolverhampton route as a result of work to install a new junction on the A460 New Road in Featherstone.

Arriva has apologised for the disruption. Spokesman Keith Myatt said: "Roadwork's have been allowed to take place at multiple locations along the route of a number of our bus services which are now causing serious delays and inconvenience to our customer."

Delays

The work at Featherstone has affected the No 68 from Cannock to Wolverhampton.

Other projects include one at Seedy Mill, Hanch, affecting the 825 Stafford-Rugeley-Lichfield service and Swan Road, Lichfield, causing delays along The Friary for Nos 60, X60 and 825. Works on A460 Sandy Lane, Rugeley, and a scheme in Handsacre, one in Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes, and works between Heath Hayes, Five Ways Island and Norton Canes are others causing problems, while the closure of Chasetown's High Street has forced the No 60 to make a long diversion.

Staffordshire County Council says the work is either essential or has to be timed to fit in with other utility companies.

Cafe owner wants a rest from flytippers

Kay Le Page and her dog Sid with sofas dumped near Springslade Lodge in Camp Road on Cannock Chase

MOST walkers like nothing more than to sit down in the countryside, relax and take in the beauty around them.

But as comfy as it looks, this cream sofa is causing consternation among visitors to Cannock Chase.

Flytippers have dumped a settee and matching armchair off Springslade Lane. It was spotted by tea room owner Kay Le Page as she walked her German Shepherd former rescue dog Sid.

Kay, from the Springslade Lodge tearoom on Camp Road, said it had been there for two weeks without being removed. "I saw it then and now I am fed up of looking at it and want to get it moved," she said.

Settee

"Here there was a two-seater settee and a one-seater chair matching. It does not look due for the tip and there's no scratches on it.

"Instead of being given away it's just been left. I am fed up with fly-tipping. When I went down there a guy was sitting there having a smoke. It's quite funny actually and even my dog Sid jumped on the settee when he saw it."

Jamie Angus, of South Staffordshire District Council, said the sofa had not been reported to the council.

He said: "We always try to clear up fly-tipping as quickly as possible.

"Fly-tipping in the district has fallen by more than 40 per cent in recent years.

"We obviously encourage people to report it to us as soon as possible."

Developers plan appeal over play area decision

THE developers behind a Heath Hayes play area which council bosses ruled must go are to appeal against the decision.

Members of Cannock Chase Council's planning committee ruled the play site at the heart of Park Farm residential estate, between Peregrine Way and Pheasant Way, was ordered to be taken down. After hearing from residents about how youths use the area for anti-social behaviour, the planning committee ruled that the site caused too much trouble for local residents.

But Persimmon Homes said it would ill appeal against the ruling and attempt to find a solution to keep everyone happy.

Steven Hird, managing director for Persimmon Homes West Midlands, has confirmed the company has submitted an appeal against the refusal.

Hopeful

He said: "We remain hopeful that a decision can be reached that delivers a satisfactory conclusion for all parties concerned."

Some people living nearby say the area provides a safe haven where youngsters can play and parents can keep an eye on them.

However, some councillors said the site had caused endless misery for nearby residents.

Councillor John Kraujalis, who represents Cannock South, said he supported the proposal and was unsure what the final outcome would be.

He said: "I had concerns about voting against it as I was told by children and parents who use it that it should stay."

Benefit for patients

PATIENTS suffering minor injuries can benefit from an expanded service at Cannock Hospital. Residents with broken limbs or needing X-rays previously had to travel to neighbouring hospitals, but from April, staff at the hospital in Brunswick Road will be able to perform these procedures.

Easter opening date for play area

Councillors David Bayliss, Alan White and Val Richards at the play area site

THE first phase of a scheme to build a new playground for younger children in Hammerwich is under way. It is expected to be completed in time for the Easter holidays.

Lichfield District Council is working with Hammerwich parish deliver the play area in Hospital Road. Funding came from a planning agreement following the development of the Hammerwich Hospital site.

The first phase of work kicked includes the installation of play equipment, such as toddler and junior swings, two play ships and a climbing tower, as well as a picnic tables and tree stump seating. Councillor Val Richards, District Council leisure services member, said: "I am sure local children will be looking forward to playing here and that it will become a focal point for lots of families for years to come."

Hammerwich parish council chairman Councillor David Bayliss said talks were taking place about the installation of speed activated warning signs near the site.

Store work set to start

WORK on a new store for furniture giant DFS in Cannock is due to begin over the next few weeks.

Motorists passing the site at Longford Island have watched as it has been cleared to make way for the furniture store, which will relocate from its current store a stone's throw away. The work is part of a £5.8million redevelopment.

The two-acre plot, at the junction of the A5 Watling Street and the A460 Wolverhampton Road, was formerly occupied by Exclusive Leather Sofas, which has been knocked down.

DFS is currently based at the Linkway Retail Park, which sits on the other side of Longford Island. The firm has signed a 20-year lease on its new home.

Mick Haragdon, project manager for new stores at DFS, said: "The current Cannock store has been there a long time and the company is keen to move in to an all spanning all gleaming premises."

The deal was struck by Metric Property Investments, specialists in retail assets. The company has handed over an initial £1.8m and will pay a further £4m to build the store.

Construction is expected to start in early summer with handover to DFS due in October for a Christmas 2012 opening. Staff from the Linkway premises will be relocated to the new 17,000 sq ft store.

Taxpayer loses out in work scheme

TESCO met with huge opposition when it advertised a full-time permanent position, for a miserly dole payment plus expenses – all part of the Con/Dems slave labour programme.

It would appear corporate conglomerates are now being subsidised by the state to take on unpaid workers. The Government pretends it is helping unemployed people to "get experience". But people on the scheme lose out, and so does the taxpayer who funds it.

For those forced into these placements, the future does not look good. Opposition to the scheme has made Tesco announce it will offer paid placements and guaranteed jobs for all who complete it.

But this only amounts to a small victory. Nothing will change until people rise against those with no idea how the less well off have to struggle to make ends meet.

Money could be spent elsewhere

IN THESE days of hardship, frugality and cutbacks everywhere I feel I must congratulate Staffordshire County Council for finding the cash to go ahead with their totally ludicrous and unnecessary traffic calming scheme on Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes.

Who makes these decisions? Certainly not anyone who has ever visited this road and watched the traffic for any amount of time. We get very few speeding vehicles, certainly no more than any other road – and humps will not slow these idiots down anyway.

After numerous "consultations" with local residents, or at least making a show of listening, someone in an ivory tower, with little knowledge of the area decided they knew best and decided to go ahead with the proposal.

Why waste money asking residents for their opinions if they were to be ignored?

The council states that the average speed along Hednesford Road is 33mph. Does that warrant traffic calming?

In the last 20 years there have been a small number of accidents but how many of these were speed related?

I feel sure the council could spend our money on something worthwhile instead of wasting it on something that no-one wants or needs.

Grandmother's thanks as Smiler is remembered

IRENE and Joseph would like to thank all those who took the time to attend the convoy from Rugeley to Cannock in remembrance of Ashley "Smiler" Burton.

It was so lovely to have such a well behaved crowd who peacefully placed flowers at the spot of the accident two years ago. We know that he is still remembered by many everyday and is still sadly missed.

Ashley's mother Judith would like to express that she could not attend because it is so very raw at the moment. All Ashley's family would like to say thank you.

A valuable resource

I WOULD like to send my thanks to the health visitors and moms at the Rugeley breastfeeding baby café. They have provided me with lots of support, advice and laughs over the time I have been going there. It is a valuable resource and I have made many new friends there. The baby café is held every Tuesday from 11am to 1230 and as well as a good natter there is always a cup of tea.

We need our MP to fight for us

I CERTAINLY touched a nerve with our disgraced MP Aidan Burley, when I revealed that at the recent public meeting with the Mid Staffs Trust Board he had not even mentioned the overnight closure of the A&E department at Stafford Hospital – a matter which affects all of the residents of Cannock Chase.

If he really cared about the overnight closure of A&E he would be the first to take the chance to confront the board face-to-face.

Instead he chose to ask a question about Cannock Hospital, when the board had already given assurances about its future.

The MP seems to prefer press releases after the event to tackling issues head-on with the people who closed our A&E overnight.

I still say we need an MP who will stand up and fight for us on this issue.

We obviously have not got one at the moment.

Claims over losing beat officers denied

FOLLOWING your article on February 2, stating officers have been withdrawn from the streets to answer phones, I e-mailed the MP for Cannock about my concerns as this Government's policy is not to withdraw front line services.

I have received a letter from Aidan Burley that denies we have, and are not going to lose any beat officers or PCSOs from the streets.

My question is simple, who is telling the truth, the newspaper or the MP? I must state that although Aidan Burley may be the MP for Cannock Chase, he is not mine and never will be.

Sympathy over staff car parking charges

IN RESPONSE to your recent article regarding the increase in car parking charges at Cannock Chase Hospital, I would just like to make the comment that my daughter would love to pay that amount. She works part-time in admin at Good Hope Hospital in Sutton Coldfield and has to pay £5 per day! She has worked there for six years and is still awaiting a car parking permit which will enable her to pay reduced costs, but that seems to be a long way off.

That said, I sympathise with all staff at whatever level as I do not think they should have to pay car parking fees at all.

Book day reaps rewards

TEACHERS in Penkridge hope pupils will reap the rewards from a day of activities to promote reading.

Staff at St Michael's First School in Penkridge say youngsters' literacy results have improved year on year since they introduced celebrations for World Book Day.

The school's 112 pupils donned fancy dress last week for this year's event. Wallace - minus Gromit - and Jack Sparrow featured, as well as Minnie Mouse, Sleeping Beauty, Robin Hood and lots of Harry Potters. Twenty children from Villiers Primary School in Prouds Lane, Bilston, visited for group story-telling sessions and teachers also dressed up.

Head Jayne Grundy praised the World Book Day scheme.

She said: "It is all about promoting reading, and importantly the enjoyment of reading."

"Events like this do not just promote learning but enjoyment, and that manifests itself in children wanting to read and translates to improvements in their reading."

"Our reading results have improved year on year since we have been focusing on World Book Day."

Teachers Gill Probert, Tom Walley and Linzi Garner with pupils Jamie Roberts, Chloe Best, William MacKrorry, Ellie Smith and Rafe Whitehouse at St Michael's First School, Penkridge

MORE than 50,000 visitors flocked to a touring exhibition of the Staffordshire Hoard in America. The collection was hailed as a "global phenomenon".

More than 100 items have been on display in Washington for the past four months, attracting the second largest audience of any exhibition to the city's National Geographic Museum. Only the Chinese Terracotta Army generated more interest.

Visitors paid eight dollars (£5) to view 117 prized pieces unearthed near Hammerwich in 2009.

Some of the funds will return to the Midlands after the exhibition closed, being split between museums in Birmingham and the Potteries which own the treasures.

Culture boss, Birmingham City councillor Martin Mullane, said: "From the very beginning the Hoard has captured the imagination of people across the world, so it's hardly surprising the Washington exhibition proved to be such a huge hit."

"People are fascinated by this remarkable collection and we're thrilled so many people went along to see it in Washington."

"We've said the Hoard is a global phenomenon and this proves that's the case."

National Geographic Museum director, Susan Norton, said: "The discovery, excavation, conservation and scholarship related to the largest collection of Anglo-Saxon treasure ever found is just the sort of story that we love to share with our visitors."

Creating specs appeal for more than a century

A COMPANY has been looking at life through a lens for more than 100 years.

Cannock and Hednesford optometrists Chase Eyecare has a long and established history as the oldest practice in the area.

The seeds of the Chase Eyecare group were sown in 1906 when Charles Yates and his sons Claude and Stanley set up C Yates and Co Manufacturing opticians in Birmingham.

In 1947 the family run business was taken over by Ralph Priest Dispensing Opticians. His son Michael Priest and wife Gail then moved the practice to Cannock in 1980.

Thriving

The first practice in Cannock was situated at 8 Walsall Road next to the Padma Restaurant and soon became just as successful as the practice based at the Jewellery Quarter.

The company was thriving and in

By Andy Richardson

1984 a decision was made to move to bigger premises in the centre of Cannock.

The practice, at 75 High Green, is situated in a mid 19th century building. The building had previously been used as an old fashioned shoe shop called Marston's Shoes which specialised in K shoes. Before this it had been a greengrocers shop for many years.

In 1983 the company set up a second practice in Market Street in Hednesford and located to a shop which was the old Howard Ball Tailors and mens' outfitters.

Howard Ball supplied many of the tailored uniforms for the RAF officers in the nearby camps during the Second World War.

In 1985 the C Yates laboratory then moved to Cannock making it one of the first practices in the West Midlands with on-site lens surfacing as well as glazing "while you wait spectacles."

In 2000 the name of the company was changed to Chase Eyecare when Gail went into partnership with Beverley Ricketts.

But in 2005 Gail retired shortly followed by Beverley and current clinical director Shakeel Puri took over the company in 2007 continuing more than 100 years of experience manufacturing bespoke spectacles and contact lenses.

Customers who pop into Chase Eyecare can take a glimpse into the history of the company and view scenes of bygone days as both the Cannock and Hednesford practices display old photographs and reminders of yesteryear on its walls.

They can also discover more about the history of Chase Eyecare by visiting its website www.chaseeyecare.co.uk

Bridge scheme over level crossing upsets residents

Pressing engagement

Mark Charles with left, Chris Rooke and right, Darren Smallman

A PE instructor from Cannock is facing a gruelling challenge this summer. Mark Charles is taking part in Ironman UK to raise money for national charity Scope.

The 34-year-old is being helped out by Great Wyrley dry cleaners

Iron Angels, in Moat Lane, who have agreed to help Mark with collecting sponsorship and will also provide a donation. The challenge takes place on June 17 in Exmoor and includes a 1.2 mile swim, 56 mile bike ride, and a 13.1 mile run.

A TWO-LANE bridge is to be built over a dangerous level crossing in Cannock Chase used by thousands of cyclists every week.

Plans have yet to be submitted to the Cannock Chase District Council, but dozens of 100ft conifers have already been felled to make way for the construction at Moors Gorse, off Marquis Drive.

The 17ft bridge, with a lane for horses and another for pedestrians and cyclists, is believed to be costing around £3m.

A string of safety measures have been trialled to reduce the number of accidents and near-misses on the Rugeley to Hednesford passenger line, including gates, a one-way crossing system and a guard used on an ad hoc basis. But none has succeeded in making the route sufficiently safe.

The introduction of a 15-mile mountain bike trail through the forest two years ago boosted cyclists to more than 3,000 at weekends. But residents say the bridge plan puts their privacy and the wildlife at risk.

Wendy Emery, of Marquis Drive, said: "This is a designated Area of Natural Beauty. The bridge is much higher than our hedge and will overlook our property."

Keith Lumley, for Network Rail, which is carrying out the work, said: "The tree felling is required to site the new bridge. This is happening now, ahead of planning permission, to avoid the nesting season."

"There are no preservation orders on the trees and the crossing isn't designed for the number of people currently using it."

Dialysis service stays

KIDNEY patients will continue to be treated at Cannock and Stafford hospitals. Dialysis services provided at the sites was under threat but the Department of Health said the facility should stay. The news was hailed as 'excellent' by Lyn Hill-Tout, chief executive of the trust which runs the hospitals.

Owner is left 'devastated' as chickens taken in raid

AN animal lover from Cannock has been left devastated after all of his 46 chickens were stolen. Thieves smashed through at gate to one of David Smith's fields in Little Saredon.

David Smith with Tomtit the cockerel

Mr Smith says he feels like he has been "finished" after the £6,000 raid.

A grey metal three-tonne flatbed trailer, two generators and a host of tools were also snatched, but the thieves left behind two cockerels.

Mr Smith, who works as a mobile farrier throughout the Staffordshire and the Black Country, said he was devastated.

He said: "To be honest, I feel like this has finished me. "I've got nothing - all of my tools were stolen," said the 45-year-old, of St James Road, Cannock.

"We've owned the land since I was a kid and it has always been somewhere to go and get away from it all, somewhere for my daughter Danielle to ride her horse.

"I kept the chickens as pets and used to give the eggs away. The gate at the bottom of the field was smashed through then they've smashed the locks of the container and taken everything," he added.

Raiders struck some time between 10.30pm on Monday, February 27 and 11.30am the following day.

Mr Smith said he had previously been targeted, with more than 100 chickens taken in a raid before Christmas and one last summer.

He added: "It drives you mad. They're all gone and I'm devastated, my daughter is as well.

Also stolen were three dark orange leather horse saddles.

Anyone with information should call Pc Jason Bolas on 101.

Car hits lamppost

COMMUTERS faced rush-hour delays after a car hit a lamppost in Cannock, trapping the woman driver. Fire crews cut the 45-year-old free at 4pm on Monday on the A34 Stafford Road near Cardinal Griffin School. She was not badly hurt.

Abduction case dad in bid for new legislation

A NORTON Canes father who travelled across the world to find his son says he is working on a new law to make child abduction a thing of the past. Sean Felton is trying to push through "Jobe's Law" which would place restrictions on parents across who want to take their children abroad.

The 40-year-old decorator has visited Westminster to discuss Jobe's Law with Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley.

A Home Office petition explains how the law would work. It says: "For any child under the age of 16 leaving the United Kingdom, both parents must go to the local police station to fill out a separate form with the address of where the child will be staying."

Mother too big for theme park ride now sees weight drop off

A CANNOCK woman has shed 10 stone in just over 15 months – after the shame of being unable to squeeze into a theme park ride helped to inspire her to slim.

By Harry Gottschalk

A family trip to Drayton Manor proved a decisive moment for Becky Edwards who decided drastic action was needed to lose weight.

The mother-of-two who has lost a total of 17 stone in four years with the majority from her hips in the last 12 months says it has transformed her life.

The 30-year-old from Bevan Lee Road can now carry out day-to-day activities that most people take for granted but has not given up on her favourite foods – she has just reduced the size of the portions.

Drastic

This week she was due sit her first driving test. This time last year she could not even fit behind the wheel.

But it was during a family day out at Drayton Manor Park that Mrs Edwards realised she needed to take drastic action.

Mrs Edwards said: "I couldn't fit on to the ride – it was just embarrassing."

"I still eat chocolate and crisps, I just have less and cook things differently – I also do a lot of walking now."

She added: "I know it sounds silly, but before, I struggled to get in to the bath, so it's nice to be able to do that now."

Mrs Edwards weighed in at 32 stone in her mid 20s but today is just over 15 stone. In October 2010 she was around 25 stone and joined a local slimming club to help with the final push.

The housewife, mother to Lilly-May, aged five, and Harry, two, says she is not going to become complacent.

She still wants to shed another two stone and will celebrate by having her belly-button pierced.

Mrs Edwards is also looking forward to spending a holiday in the sun with her family. "It would be so nice to walk down the beach not feeling embarrassed", she said.

The weight loss has transformed her life and Mrs Edwards is pleased to be able to play with her children more. "I can run around after my son and daughter now," she added.

Concert to raise cash
for causes

CANNOCK & DISTRICT SI

ST Giles Hospice and Midlands Air Ambulance are the two local charities being supported by SI Cannock and District throughout the current Soroptimist year.

Funds have been raised at many of the events since Eileen Cryer became the president last April.

The main fundraising event is still to come - a concert by Chase Orpheus Male Choir, with soloist Sharron Burns. It will be at St Luke's Church on Friday March 16, from 7.30pm. There will be one interval and it will end at 9.30, with refreshments served in the church centre.

Soroptimists are supporting the hospice through the Cannock Friends of St Giles. It costs £322 to fund an in-patient bed for a day, so the hospice and Friends group are grateful for any support.

The Midlands Air Ambulance is responsible for funding and operating three Air Ambulances serving Gloucestershire, Herefordshire, Shropshire, Staffordshire, Worcestershire and the West Midlands. Some £6m is needed each year to keep its three Air Ambulances operational.

President Eileen is looking forward to a large audience so these charities can benefit. Tickets are £7.5, available from St Luke's church centre, from Eileen on 01543 503375 or from Trish Mellor, 01543 578095.

It's 'bon appetit' as pledge is renewed

Members of Lapley Trefoil Guild enjoy their meal at a French restaurant

LAPLEY Trefoil Guild enjoyed a relax and pamper evening at their January meeting. Hand massage, nail art, foot spas and various crafts were available to relax members.

In February the Guild held a French evening at a local restaurant. Everyone renewed their promise in French and thoroughly enjoyed both the food and the ambience.

The programme for the forthcoming year includes walks, a theatre visit, a cookout, dancing, a village quiz, talks, visits to a stately home, food related events and carol singing. The guild will also be taking part in Olympic related events in the area.

The next meeting will be a demonstration and workshop on sugar paste modelling.

Anyone interested in joining Lapley Trefoil Guild is asked to contact the chairman Sheila Wellsbury on 01785 713384.

Ladies taken through paces

THE February meeting saw a change in programme. Mrs Hazel Whitehouse stepped in at very short notice to take the members through a series of gentle exercises all performed while seated.

Performed to a selection of great popular music, the exercises contained lots of stretching and elements of co-ordination.

With the aid of two brightly coloured feather dusters, the ladies each indulged in a laughter-making routine, with feathers flying all around.

Hazel is qualified to teach in this field and works with Age UK to help with mobility issues in the older generation but her regular classes in Lichfield also creates a social network which is just as important.

The ladies had great fun and did not feel the least bit guilty when they scoffed the jam tarts that Angie had provided.

March 28 is the date for the AGM. This will be held in the Old Mining College, Queen Street, Chasetown at 7.15pm and there will also be a fish and chip supper.

Nursery's mile of smiles as hurdler joins in fun

International athlete Peter Shallow is under starter's orders at Busy Bees Nursery

AN INTERNATIONAL athlete joined youngsters in Burntwood for a pint-sized Olympic afternoon.

Busy Bees Nursery has launched a Golden Mile pledge, to promote physical activity and to raise awareness of a fundraising initiative - collecting £44,000 for the Dame Kelly Holmes Trust.

Hurdler Peter Shallow went that extra mile to support the cause and put children through their paces at the nursery, in Shaftesbury Drive, last Friday (March 2).

Manager Caroline Cooper said: "We believe that we can shape future generations by introducing our children at a very early age to fitness in a way that is not only energetic but fun."

Jumping

"Peter was fantastic and certainly added the fun factor to the day," she added.

"The children were delighted to learn a new jumping skill and cheered him on as we raised the bar to 3ft when it was his turn."

Since January a child-friendly Olympic-Bee-themed torch has been making its way around 136 Busy Bees nurseries across the UK.

An array of sports personalities and Paralympic champions have been supporting the nurseries at various stages of the journey, and will continue to do so before the torch reaches its final destination at Busy Bees Excel site on July 26, the eve of the London Olympic Opening Ceremony.

Discover mammals in grounds of trust

VISITORS to the Staffordshire Wildlife Trust can find out more about the mammals that live in its grounds.

Estate warden Scott Petrek will be helping participants to identify a variety of 'field signs' left by mammals - like footprints and droppings - during a guided walk on March 25 at 10am. The grounds are home to mammals such as otters, water shrew and bank voles.

Scott said: "This event is an opportunity for people to learn how to identify the subtle signs left by mammals as they go about their business."

Cost is £3, with a 50 per cent discount for Friends of Wolsley. To book, call 01889 880100.

Careers help for pupils

Cannock Chase High pupil Lola Downing tries on a police hat with friends Ellie Wilkes, Chris Gilbert, Jessica Flynn, Leah Wiltshire and PCSO Jackie Dennis

CANNOCK pupils had the chance to chat with employers, university bosses and Army representatives as part of a careers day.

More than 700 pupils were present for the event at Cannock Chase High School. Pupils from Years 8, 11 and 12 were joined by teenagers from Cardinal Griffin Catholic High School.

Representatives included Staffordshire University, Nottingham Trent and De Montfort universities, JCB, Stafford College, Staffordshire Police and the Armed Forces.

Helen Boulton, aged 36, sixth-form manager at Cannock Chase High School, said: "The whole event was excellent and was a great chance for pupils to chat to representatives from different careers. Everyone was very enthusiastic about it."

Police warn drug gang over assets

POLICE are warning a gang convicted of plotting to produce millions of pounds of cannabis that they will come after them for ill-gotten gains secured from other drug crime.

Three Staffordshire men including the 11-strong group's ringleader, are behind bars for their part in the scheme.

They spent £1.4m kitting out a huge drug factory at a Lincolnshire farm.

Now Staffordshire Police has the force is launching Proceeds of Crime proceedings against the gang.

Det Ch Insp Jane Hewett said: "There is no doubt that several of these offenders were living lavish lifestyles funded by drug crime."

Sprawling

"The Proceeds of Crime Act will be used to strip them of their assets."

Farm owner Iain Brown offered the gang use of his sprawling site and the group – spearheaded by Neil Bridges, from Hall Lane, Hammerwich – set about costly barn conversions for their enterprise.

Bridges, aged 36, was jailed for six years while accomplices Peter Bassett, of Kings Bromley Lane, Rugeley, and Tony Mobbs, of Lichfield Road, Barton-under-Needwood, were also locked up for admitting conspiracy to produce and supply cannabis.

Lorry driver Barry Brearley, of Charlemont Road, West Bromwich, was handed a 12-month sentence suspended for two years after pleading guilty to conspiracy to produce cannabis.

Firefighters attend a blaze in the School House at Lichfield Cathedral School

Hundreds of children are evacuated in school blaze

FIREFIGHTERS from Chase Terrace were among the crews fighting a blaze at a Lichfield school. Hundreds of pupils were evacuated from Lichfield Cathedral School.

Students were yesterday (Wednesday) told to stay home while investigations into the blaze continued. The fire started after a laptop computer exploded.

By Richard Woodall

Thirty firefighters from across the region rushed to tackle the flames - and stop them spreading to the historic cathedral nearby. The fire broke out at the school, situated in The Close, at 2.30pm on Tuesday. A total of 200 pupils had to be evacuated.

It started in an office area on the first floor of the School House building, leaving the room gutted and causing substantial damage to surrounding rooms.

Eyewitness Jason Griffin, aged 23, from Pebblemill Close, Cannock, was taking photographs of the cathedral when the fire broke out. "The alarm was going off and the kids were standing outside," he said.

Quickly

"It looked like it was well ablaze but the fire engines arrived pretty quickly."

Headteacher Michael Chanter said no-one was hurt in the fire.

"All the pupils and staff were evacuated quickly and safely from the building," he said.

"We would like to say thank you to the firefighters as well as to our pupils for excellent behaviour."

Firefighters remained at the scene overnight as a precaution and investigations were continuing today.

At the height of the blaze, crews from Lichfield, Tamworth, Chase Terrace, Burton and Barton under Needwood attended.

Phil McFarlane, lead officer for Staffordshire Fire and Rescue, said so many firefighters were needed to ensure the flames did not spread to the cathedral.

"We wanted to be ahead of the incident rather than thinking we are under-resourced," he said. "Our crews extracted water from Stowe Pool to extinguish the flames."

The Very Rev Adrian Dorber, Dean of Lichfield Cathedral, is chairman of governors at the school.

He said: "It seems a laptop in the middle of the building in the learning support room just exploded, with the fire spreading quickly."

There were 200 pupils in the building at the time.

Restaurant offers VIP treatment for mums

FAMILIES with five or more generations of women can celebrate Mother's Day in style at a Cannock restaurant.

The VIP experience is on offer at the Orbital Brewers Fayre, on Eastern Way. Families will be seated at the best table in the house and will receive a glass of bubbly upon arrival, as well as a bunch of flowers and a box of chocolates. A personal photographer will also be on hand to take some snaps of the family.

Brewers Fayre spokesman Emma Price said: "We wanted to make it a special occasion all round."

The VIP experience must be booked by tomorrow (Friday). For those not eligible, mums eat for free after 4pm on Mother's Day, March 18.

Bus fare into city slashed to just £1

FARES have been slashed to £1 for some bus journeys in the Midlands. Arriva Midlands is offering the discount on the X31 6.15am and 7.15am services leaving Cannock for Birmingham.

Buses call at Great Wyrley, Cheslyn Hay, New Invention, Short Heath, Shepwell Green and Bentley.

The offer will run until May 5 and is aimed at encouraging more people to opt for public transport.

It comes just weeks after Arriva put its prices up by up to 40p for some journeys.

Most services in Staffordshire and the Black Country rose by 10p but costs between Cannock and Walsall rose more than 20 per cent, from £1.80 to £2.20.

Widow unveils plaque

Grandson Liam Munt, aged 15, and Marjorie Bailey, 78, front. On the railings is son-in-law Steve Munt, 44, and daughter Lynne Munt, 49, with standards at the back

A WIDOW has installed a plaque at a park in memory of her late husband who worked for Cannock Council for 40 years. Marjorie Bailey, aged 78, unveiled the plaque at Elmore Park in Church Street, Rugeley. Mrs Bailey's husband, Reginald, who worked as a painter decorator, died of multiple organ failure in May last year aged 80.

She said he was also a private in the army for five years in his youth, and joined the Territorial Army when he left.

Mrs Bailey, of Church Street, said: "He knew everybody because he used to go round the council houses painting. Having a plaque here is marvellous, it's somewhere close by to go to remember him."

"Reginald liked his garden. He was also a Colour Sergeant and served with the Stafford's regiment in Germany and Holland in 1950."

Mr Bailey married Marjorie in August 1996. He had two children Lynne Munt and Ian Bailey, from a previous relationship and was a grandfather-of-six.

Restaurant pair fined over rodent

TWO former operators of a restaurant in Cheslyn Hay have been hit with a £17,500 bill for poor hygiene. It comes after one customer reported seeing vermin on the premises.

Rauf Ishaq, and Muhammed Wajid, the former owner and day-to-day manager of the Shaan Balti House on the High Street, each pleaded guilty to seven charges of contravening food regulations from when they worked there. A new owner has since taken over and may change the venue's name.

Miriam Petch, prosecuting for South Staffs District Council, said: "On February 2, 2011, council food safety enforcement officers received a complaint from a member of the public who saw a rodent. The front room was being used as a storeroom with food sachets there. There were numerous rat droppings on one area of the floor."

Ishaq, aged 37, of Avenue Road, Wednesbury, was fined £2,000 for each offence - a total of £14,000 - as well as being ordered to pay £2,112 costs and a £15 victim surcharge. Wajid, aged 35, of Gladstone Street, Darlaston, who was the manager with day-to-day control, was fined £500 for each offence - a total of £3,500 - along with a £15 victim surcharge.

Dog owner is facing trial

A MAN from Great Wyrley has appeared in court accused of not providing suitable conditions for his chocolate Labrador Coco.

Daniel Sloan, aged 20, of Walsall Road, appeared at Stafford Magistrates last week and pleaded not guilty to failing to ensure the needs of his dog were provided between September and November last year. He will appear before magistrates again for trial on May 1.

An artist's impression of the new academy, currently taking shape at South Staffordshire College

Open event for a rural academy

BASED at the Rodbaston Campus of South Staffordshire College near Penkridge, The Rural Enterprise Academy will be the first dedicated land-based free school in England and will be welcoming their first students, aged 14, in September this year.

The academy is a new and exciting free school which will offer not only a broad education for traditional and essential qualifications such as English, maths and science, but the opportunity to link learning wherever possible to rural enterprise, environmental sustainability and land-based subjects.

The academy is sponsored by three world class businesses – Veolia, the National Farmers Union and South Staffordshire College.

Facilities

These sponsors will work with the academy to ensure students can access the very best facilities, and are well equipped for the future whether they are looking to move on to employment, or on to further training including higher education.

The academy will provide inspiration, capture aspiration and will consistently encourage ambition while ensuring students are supported appropriately in achieving and surpassing their aims.

Don't miss the open day this Saturday. Visit the website www.ruralenterpriseacademy.com for more details.

Take a fresh approach to nursery meal-times

HAPPY Tots nursery in Orbital Plaza, Bridgtown – by the Ramada Hotel – provides a friendly and welcoming environment for children with all the toys and activities needed for them to learn through play.

Head of nursery for Happy Tots Cannock, Judy Kelly, said: "While the children love the homely atmosphere, loving staff and fun activities, parents love how our qualified nursery nurses look after their children."

"Our value-for-money, all-inclusive prices make it easy to budget, with no hidden extra costs. All food and drinks are included, and only fresh home-cooked food is served, including lots of fruit and vegetables."

The nursery is Ofsted registered, with spacious rooms and fingerprint entrance for child comfort, safety and security.

Open from 7.30am to 6.30pm weekdays, with flexible childcare sessions that suit working parents, the nursery is conveniently situated just off the A5 in Cannock, just two minutes from the town centre and near Junction T7 of the M6 Toll – and has its own dedicated parking spaces right outside.

Socialise

Happy Tots takes children from six weeks old, with a dedicated professional team creating a nurturing atmosphere for youngsters to learn to socialise and develop their creativity, individuality and self confidence both inside and outside in the safe, secure outdoor play area.

It is the most recommended nursery on www.thebestof.co.uk/cannock, where you can read parental reviews like this one: "As busy parents it is a weight off our mind to know that our daughter is safe while we are at work. The time she spends at nursery has proven constructive and she has come on leaps and bounds. I would recommend any parent to Happy Tots, friendly and positive staff are a must for growing children. Happy Tots is exactly what it says – it is a home from home for our daughter, they have become like her second family."

So go along and see for yourself why Happy Tots is "as close as children can get to being at home". Call 01543 509089 or visit www.happy-tots.com

Crissy gets ready to Rock those theatre audiences

Jungle buddies Fatima Whitbread, Jessica-Jane Clement, Crissy Rock and Stefanie Powers

ACTRESS and comedienne Crissy Rock has gone from Bedlam to Benidorm, moving onto the Jungle . . . and then to Cannock Chase.

The 53-year-old Liverpudlian made her name in the sitcom based in the Spanish resort, before spending 19 days on I'm A Celebrity . . . Get Me Out Of Here.

She has since appeared as Fairy Godmother in pantomime in Billingham, Cleveland, before embarking on a tour of 'Stars of Benidorm Live, in which she appears with fellow cast member Shaun Foster-Conley - the Neptune Bar's crooner.

The comedy show is nearing the end of its run and is on at the Prince of Wales Centre tomorrow night (Friday).

The two are no strangers, having already worked together in Spain, where Crissy performed stand-up at the UK Cabaret bar in Benidorm.

Crissy spent five years on Benidorm the show as Janey York and will make one last appearance on the last episode of the current series. Crissy had already missed out on appearing in the jungle because of her commitment to the show, but did not decline a second invitation - and has not looked back.

Cockroaches

She was one of the last ones to leave the show, won by McFly's Dougie Poynton. And despite the prospects of eating critters, sleeping rough and being locked in a room with cockroaches, she says she has no regrets.

"I was made up," she said. "I was a winner just by going in there. I loved every minute.

"For me it was just like a camping holiday, and it opened so many doors."

Crissy is now working on a sequel to her book This Heart Within Me Burns From Bedlam to Benidorm. The penning of a movie about Helen Duncan, who was jailed for witch crimes is also in the pipeline.

It was in Ladybird, Ladybird that Crissy first appeared on our screens, with roles in Brazen Hussies, Brookside and Dalziel and Pascoe also on her CV. But her big break came in a stand-up competition in which she finished as runner-up up against thousands of entrants across the North West - after someone had bet her £1 that she couldn't do it. Crissy had to hone her material and shape her act doing comedy gigs, and it stood her in good stead.

"As a comic, you have to get the crowd on side," she said. "I always say that you have to live before you die and I died so many times I was going to rename myself Lazarus."

WEAR A DAFFODIL IN MARCH TO SUPPORT MARIE CURIE NURSES

Marie Curie Cancer Care is asking everyone to get behind its Great Daffodil Appeal this March by wearing a daffodil pin to support Marie Curie Nurses.

The appeal is Marie Curie's biggest fundraising campaign and throughout the month volunteer collectors are out asking people to wear a daffodil, in return for a donation. All money raised from the appeal helps provide more free nursing care for people with a terminal illness in their own homes.

Research shows around 65% of people would like to die at home if they had a terminal illness, with a sizeable minority opting for hospice care. However, more than 50% of cancer deaths still occur in hospital, the place people say they would least like to be. Since 2004 Marie Curie Cancer Care has been campaigning for more patients to be able to die in their place of choice and last year the charity made this possible for more than 31,000 people.

Eileen Mills, one of the charity's Nursing Ambassadors, explains why support is so crucial. She said: 'The Great Daffodil Appeal is our chance to join together and help make it possible for more people to spend their last days at home or in one of our hospices. I see first hand what it means for patients to have the choice of where to spend their final days, surrounded by family and friends, which is why the appeal is so important.'

'I am able to make my patient my one and only priority. And it's wonderful to know I can offer them quality, personalised care without any interruptions. But one of the biggest privileges of all is that I am able to support and spend time with some of the most amazing individuals and families - each with their own unique needs, fears and emotions.'

'So when you pick up your daffodil pin this March, know that you are playing your part in helping nurses like me to continue to provide free care and support at a time when people need it the most.'

This is something Marie Curie supporter, Edwina Gudgeon, can relate to: 'I wear my daffodil with pride every year, as a reminder of the wonderful support the Marie Curie nurses gave to my family. The charity is very close to my heart as we relied on the support of their nurses to look after my younger sister at home before she died, and I will always be grateful for the care the whole family received. It is really important that people join forces for the Great Daffodil appeal and raise money to ensure that Marie Curie Nurses can deliver more care and support to so many people across the UK.'

Daffodil pins can be picked up from local stores, Marie Curie volunteer collectors, Marie Curie Shops and the charity's website throughout March.

For more information on how to get involved in the Great Daffodil Appeal, please visit: www.mariecurie.org.uk/daffodil or call 0845 601 3107

Management labels one-star rating for takeaway 'unfair'

A CHESLYN Hay takeaway has been handed a one star food safety rating following a visit by council health inspectors. Golden Wok in Station Street was visited three times.

The inspectors, working for South Staffs District Council, found poor cleaning standards and chicken and other meats being stored at room temperature.

The takeaway was visited on January 31 and bosses had two follow-up visits on February 7 and 21.

Officials said they found there was no food safety management in place in the kitchens.

In a report, the inspector said: "I was disappointed to find that no food safety management system was available on the premises and that standards at the premises were generally poor."

Unhappy

Health inspectors regularly visit pubs, take aways and restaurants across the region and give a rating from zero to five.

The inspector who visited Golden Wok said he was unhappy with the cleaning standards.

It was noted: "Cleaning to the premises was found to be poor throughout."

"Cleaning is required,

By Harry Gottschalk
 paying particular attention to wash hand basins, floors in hard to reach areas such as under and around equipment, doors and framework and skirting boards."

The inspector was concerned that some high risk foods were not being kept at the right temperature.

The report noted: "At the time of the inspection partially cooked meats, such as chicken and beef were being stored at room temperature."

Food kept in the freezer had not been covered, so was at risk of contamination.

Bosses were also accused of not having anti-bacterial spray to keep some areas of the business clean.

Takeaway bosses have disputed the report. Manager Sam Chim said food was stored at the correct temperature and his shop was clean.

He called the report "unfair" and "harsh", and said staff had painted parts of the shop as asked by the inspector.

Singer Sean in Tudor final

Britain's Got Variety hopeful Sean Tudor of Penkridge

A TEENAGE singer from Penkridge has stars in his eyes after winning through to the crucial stage of a talent contest.

Sean Tudor is through to the final regional stage of Britain's Got Variety, which offers the winner the chance to perform at London's O2 Arena.

The 17-year-old saw off stiff competition in the initial heats and is being invited back to Birmingham for round two. The Stafford College student is heading to The Crescent Theatre on April 14 and if successful, he will join other rising stars from across the country for the final in London.

The amateur singer wowed the judges in the first stage of the competition by singing All Rise, made famous by boy band Blue.

Sean is now putting in the hours practising his next performance which will be a cover version of Music Sounds Better with U, by Big Time Rush.

"I've been rehearsing loads just to make sure I get it right," said Sean.

Chance for veterans to visit vital battle scene

STAFFORDSHIRE veterans and their relatives can visit the beaches and fields where the decisive campaign which led to the end of the Second World War was fought.

Soldiers from Staffordshire landed in Normandy, northern France, in June 1944, and were soon heavily involved in the battle of Caen and the advance on the river Seine.

Among the troops were men of the Staffordshire Yeomanry who landed on D-Day, June 6, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel J A Eadie.

Disbanded

The Staffordshire Yeomanry was thought to be the only conventional tank regiment to land on Sword Beach in the British sector. The 27th Armoured Brigade was disbanded in Normandy in July 1944 after heavy losses and the Staffordshire Yeomanry was once again transferred back to England to join the 79th Armoured Division.

In June - 68 years on - an historical research group is planning to retrace the steps of the county men who contributed so much to the final victory over Nazi Germany.

Birmingham War Research Society organiser Alex Bulloch MBE said: "Staffordshire soldiers played a crucial part in the liberation of Europe during the Second World War."

"Their heroic sacrifices and contribution to ultimate victory over Nazi Germany in 1945 cannot be over-estimated."

"The society is offering a great opportunity for people to visit the graves of their loved ones."

"We take visitors to the actual cemeteries where their relatives are buried."

The trip to Normandy will run from June 5-9. For more information, contact Alex Bulloch on 0121 4599008.

WILD AT HEART

ITV1, 8.30pm

As the series comes to an end, strange things are happening at Leopard's Den. When aren't they? But with Danny about to leave for the UK, it seems there are signs aplenty urging him to stay. Frogs have seemingly rained down overnight, the giraffe refuses to budge from the front gate and the cheetah has lost its appetite. After all he has been through over there it seems remarkable that he wants to investigate, but Danny jumps at the chance to have one last adventure before his return home — tracking a lioness that attacked a tourist — but it could end in tragedy. Meanwhile, Du Plessis makes an alarming discovery about Ed and Fiona.

Take your home to another level

Mezzanine levels have long been popular in church and chapel conversions, but they can also be used to add an extra room in ordinary houses, says Julia Gray

YOU might not think so when it's winter time, but you're lucky if your home has rooms with really high ceilings.

Not only are they a fantastic architectural feature and quite unusual, but they can also be used to create an extra room.

With the addition of a mezzanine level (an internal balcony overlooking the space below), you can add a room more easily than converting your loft or cellar or building an extension.

A mezzanine level can have all sorts of uses – a dressing room, home office, studio, spare room, or bed platform or play area in a child's room (bed platforms also work well in high-ceilinged studio apartments).

However, there are lots of practical considerations. So that you can stand up comfortably in both the mezzanine and the space underneath it, the room should have a ceiling height of at least 4.2m (13ft 9in), unless it's a small child's room.

Whatever you use the mezzanine for, you'll need something to enclose it. A balustrade or half-height wall is a popular choice because you still get a feeling of space, although you do, of course, lose privacy.

You'll also need a staircase up to the mezzanine. Ladder-style ones are fine for kids, but not so user-friendly for adults, while spiral staircases save space.

For a really clever use of space, you can tuck things under a (conventional) staircase, like a built-in home office or storage, or even a tiny shower room or kitchen in a studio apartment.

One thing you don't want to do without is soundproofing, because this could affect your enjoyment of the mezzanine and the room below. And don't forget the importance of natural light.

Because a mezzanine level is an internal

Use an architect to design your addition structure, you probably won't need planning permission to build one, unless you live in a listed building. If you do, you're likely to need consent from your local council's conservation officer – and your application may be rejected. You should also check with the council's building control department.

Using an architect to design your mezzanine is a good idea, because they should know what rules and regulations apply.

Alternatively, a builder may be happy to design and construct the mezzanine for you, or build it to your design.

You may even need to employ a structural engineer, as mezzanines are often big and heavy and so could put more weight on the floor than it was designed to take.

If your home's leasehold, you may need the freeholder's permission to add a mezzanine. If it's a flat, with a flat below, you'll probably have to comply with the Party Wall Act. Costs for a mezzanine level start from hundreds of pounds (for a small, simple platform in a child's room), but can cost thousands, depending on the structure's size and the work involved.

Compared to most types of building work, though, this is a relatively quick and inexpensive way of adding a room

The German manufacturer is offering a range of finance packages on commercial vehicles

Still time to make a white van plan with Volkswagen

THERE'S still time to take advantage of the finance offers from Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles for a new 12-plate van or people carrier, plus zero per cent finance on selected used vans, available until March 31.

For example, new Volkswagen vans are available from £199 a month (plus VAT), while hire purchase rates from 3.99 per cent with free servicing for three years or 30,000 miles (whichever is soonest) from Volkswagen Commercial Vehicle Finance makes it easy for private or business customers to put Volkswagen on their shortlists.

In addition, contract hire and finance lease rates for Volkswagen vans range from £199 a month (plus VAT) for a Caddy to £309 (plus VAT) for a Crafter, or for people carriers from £319 a month (plus VAT) for the Transporter shuttle with eight seats, and from £419 a month (plus VAT) for the luxury of the Caravelle.

Selected

Private customers can purchase a Volkswagen Solutions PCP package from £299 a month for a Caddy Maxi Life with seven seats.

The zero per cent finance offer is available for selected Assured Used Transporter and Caddy vans. The Volkswagen Assured Use programme gives the assurance of a Multi-point check, 12 months free warranty, 12 months free roadside assistance, European roadside cover, reconditioning, MOT test cover, van data check and seven days free insurance.

Finance offers for new 12-plate vehicles

To help customers manage running costs, service and maintenance plans are available for new and used vehicles from £250 (plus VAT) for three years or 30,000 miles (whichever is soonest), giving the added peace of mind that they're maintained with 100 per cent Volkswagen parts; a better service history can also boost residual values too.

Full details, plus a guide to finance, are available from www.volkswagen-vans.co.uk/finance/current-offers/, or on 0800 717131.

AS A little boy, relatives smiled of my quaint habit of keeping my collection of toy cars all in their original boxes. Now, many years later, that habit is causing me a problem because I can't find a 'box' to put the new Range Rover Evoque in.

Yes, officially it's a medium-sized sports utility vehicle but no ordinary one. But perhaps I have trouble putting it in a 'box' or convenient category because there isn't one yet. Like its illustrious big brother the Range Rover when that was launched, the Evoque is something so different it's in a class of its own.

It has the utility of an SUV but its styling is sleek and trendy, and is kitted out to the standard Range Rover owners would expect. It's also sporty by hot hatchback standards, in terms of both performance and handling. Yet with the 2.2 diesel engine it's relatively economical too.

And as it doesn't take up as much room on the road as its stablemates it's likely to appeal to those who drive mainly on urban roads.

This is a designer car, and with a near £40,000 price tag for the model tested it will certainly hold real appeal for well-heeled buyers of an Armani suit or a Gucci handbag.

Estate

While the Evoque is the baby of the Land Rover family, don't be misled into thinking it's a small car. It can seat five in comfort and has more boot space than a Jaguar limousine, with the added ability to fold the rear seats flat and become a cargo carrier of estate car proportions.

While its 'face' can't be mistaken for anything else but a Range Rover, the Evoque has a distinctly more aerodynamic shape with a sweeping roofline.

The Evoque comes in five-door form or as a three-door coupe, although both have the same five seat capacity. Prices start at £27,995, or £28,950 for the coupe, although you can effectively create your own bespoke car from a wide range of options. The 2.2 litre, four cylinder

A rocking good time

Rock 'n' Roll Paradise
Prince of Wales Centre, Cannock
THE old rockers of Cannock, who came out in force for a night of nostalgia were certainly not disappointed by this fast-moving and light-hearted show on Saturday.

Jon 'Lord Tim' Croxford's production, Rock 'n' Roll Paradise, contained the usual array of now-passed-over truly original rock 'n' roll stars but unlike those who rely on impersonation, this show was all about the music.

It never took itself too seriously but set out to be faithful to the work of those who changed the world through their hits.

Five soloists enabled the audience to relive their youth with a never-ending list of hits from the likes of Buddy Holly, Roy Orbison, Jerry Lee Lewis and, of course Elvis Presley.

The five-piece backing, led by the highly talented Darren Glover, who was also Jerry Lee, were excellent in their renditions of the traditional arrangements, something which is too often overlooked in this type of production.

This show was two hours of pure entertainment for those of a "certain age" – and quite a few who were not!

Bryan Till

Giggles but not many laughs

Hormonal Housewives, coming to Birmingham and Lichfield on tour

THE 99 per cent female audience at Shrewsbury's Theatre Severn were up for a girls' night out at a show which promised a cross between Loose Women and The Vagina Monologues. What they got were a few giggles and too few belly laughs. The three performers tried hard to make up for mediocre material which said nothing new or insightful about the female condition. They went through the usual topics – childbirth, feminine hygiene and the shortcomings of men.

Margi Clarke provided slapstick, Laura Checkley gurned and co-writer Julie Coombe took the lead through anecdotes and sketches that were hit-and-miss. A tirade of anti-male jokes hit the spot (unlike most men, apparently) but the below-par sketches robbed the show of comic momentum.

Leon Burakowski

It's Nog unusual

Tir Na Nog, Robin 2, Bilston

SONNY Condell and Leo O'Kelly make up one of the most unusual duos on the folk circuit. With respect, they look like a couple of buskers. Tir Na Nog – Gaelic for Land of Eternal Youth – have a distinctive and powerful sound. They have a flavour of early Simon & Garfunkel but can crank it up too, on songs such as Venezuela which has a reggae thump and Latin backbeat.

Birds of a Feather reunite to make Grand comeback

THE ORIGINAL Essex girls are coming to Wolverhampton Grand for the Birds of a Feather reunion.

The TV sit-com hit from the 1990s created by Laurence Marks and Maurice Gran will be brought up-to-date on stage as the TV sisters Sharon and Tracey, again played by Linda Robson and the new slimline Pauline Quirke, are reunited with man-eating neighbour Dorien, Lesley Joseph.

Fans will get the chance to discover what the Chigwell trio have been up to over the past 14 years when the new play is staged at the Lichfield Street venue from Monday, March 19, to Saturday, March 24.

Linda Robson, who played Sharon Theodopolopoulos, who like her sister had a criminal husband serving time, told how the reunion came about and blossomed into a UK tour. "There's been talk of us getting together for a while, which started off with a few phone calls to check if everyone was interested," she said.

"The next stage was to have meetings and then look at our diaries as our schedules are all so hectic. We all agreed that we would only do it if we were all available.

Present

"The show is going to be set in the present, so audiences will see what Sharon, Tracey and Dorien have been up to in the last 14 years and what they're doing now."

Linda, a regular guest panelist with Loose Women and one of the Grumpy Old Women, added: "We've been working with the original writers from the show, so there's plenty of comedy and drama. Audiences definitely won't be disappointed."

Chicago just razzle dazzles

Chicago, New Alexandra Theatre, Birmingham

SOAP stars turn song-and-dance sensations in the new touring production of sexy jazz musical Chicago, Kander and Ebb's jazz comedy about murderous dames in 1920s Illinois.

This show oozes West End class and the leading ladies, Ali Bastian (Hollyoaks) as Roxie Hart and Tuppelle Dorgu (Coronation Street) as Velma Kelly, are both hot stuff. EastEnders gets in on the act with Stefan Booth playing the crooning death row puppet master as slick lawyer Billy Flynn. Bernie Nolan is too nice to convince as the jailhouse's Mama Morton but her voice is powerful, as those who saw TV's Popstar to Operastar will know. The jazz band are a treat.

Go get razzle dazzled before Chicago finishes its run on Saturday.

It's right on Q for fun musical

Avenue Q, Wolverhampton Grand

AVENUE Q is classed as Sesame Street for grown ups. It is certainly not your average musical. Its appeal is youthfulness and puppets that are skillfully manipulated by clearly visible actors who deliver the dialogue and songs.

The odd thing is that you watch the puppets rather than the actors. These characters include a gay banker, a Miss Piggy-like sex goddess, a teaching assistant and an English Lit student, who deal with such complex issues as racism and sexism.

The tongue-in-cheek script and hilarious lyrics to the catchy tunes were a delight and delivered superbly by a talented cast. An imaginatively used set added to this avenue of excellence.

TIPS OF THE WEEK

When starting a building project always use a contract which should include details such as start and completion dates, costs and payment plan. You can download a free contract from the Federation of Master Builders (FMB)

Don't over estimate your abilities when it comes to maintenance and improvement work around the home. Doing jobs around the house yourself could be a false economy as work which is completed to a poor standard can actually reduce the value of your home. Not to mention the cost it could have to your health if something were to go wrong.

The Federation of Master Builders (FMB), the largest trade association in the UK construction industry, <http://www.fmb.org.uk/fab/>.

Everall's break out sets up first try

Rugeley Rugby Club 17
Essington 0

RUGELEY welcomed Essington to Hagley Fields for a game that became what could only be described as well-balanced.

Essington started with an onslaught of forward play but the home team had no problem holding them back.

The Rugeley pack was able to take everything the visitors offered.

Rugeley regained the flow of play and No.8 Mitchell Everall, with his power and speed, was able to break free from the visiting pack and make a dash for the try line.

With back-up from the Rugeley centres and some impressive set-play, centre Jamie Frazer made a flying run to score an impressive try.

Rugeley continued to the apply the pressure on Essington and the visitors were unable to hold them.

The home side looked well-structured and outstandingly disciplined.

The team are beginning to look like the complete side under the guidance of team captain Barrie Newton.

Control

From a scrum down and a Rugeley put-in, tight-head prop Scott Read was able to break free and make an impressive 25-metre run and score with great ease right under the visitors' posts.

The try was converted by Matty Keys, who had returned to the pivotal role of inside centre, to bring Rugeley's advantage to 12-0 at half-time.

The second period started with Rugeley in full control and brimming with confidence.

They were able to hold the visitors with ease and again put together a great show of set play and forward planning that was a pleasure to watch.

Essington were able at times to push the home team back but Rugeley held firm and took the game back to the visitors.

With 10 minutes left to play, Rugeley stand-off Steven Kelly was able to make a break for the try line and score Rugeley's third of the day.

The game ended 17-0 to Rugeley.

Although Essington were unable to score they put up a valiant battle and were at times impressive with their set-play, but Rugeley were far better controlled.

Title secured, now 100 goals is target

Cannock 5th XI 11
Shrewsbury 4th XI 1

HAVING already secured promotion, a win here would crown Cannock fifths as champions.

Promotion-chasing Shrewsbury were the only team to have taken any points from Cannock this season and the division's top two teams played a game of great spirit.

Cannock started the match strongly and broke the deadlock after 10 minutes with Darren Pugh scoring the first of his four goals. Other goals came from Tim Butler (2), Don Clark (2) and singles from Mark Cotterill, Raff Moscatiello and Callum Swinerton-Ions.

Late on, Shrewsbury were rewarded with a consolation goal, but the home team played some excellent hockey and were applauded by the Shrewsbury players at the end.

Cannock confirmed their target of achieving the league title and now have two games left to score at least three more times to secure 100 league goals for the season.

Cannock Badgers 'A' XI 4
Finchfield Badgers XI 0

The visit of Finchfield to Chase

Cannock Hockey

Park saw the Badgers A play their first match without their talismanic skipper Ollie Edwards who has moved up to the men's fifth XI.

It took some time for Cannock to settle down and in the early stages it was Finchfield who were doing the majority of the attacking and seemed likely to open the scoring.

However, Cannock's defensive trio of Angus Bulpitt, Rianne Martin and George Archer held firm. As the first half progressed, Cannock opened the scoring through Alex Kingston, followed by a cross into the D by Jordan Joiner which was just missed at the far post by Nathan Lofthouse.

Cannock's second arrived following a period of Finchfield pressure when their attack was broken up and Bulpitt found Joiner in midfield who drove forward before moving the ball onto Danny Swinerton-Ions whose quick pass allowed Kingston to get his, and Cannock's second goal.

The second half was again a close affair with Finchfield looking to get back into the game, although as in the first half they failed to seriously trouble James Bandurak in goal. Good work by Jake Bilson just outside the D allowed him to steal the ball and slip it to Jamie Greenwood who unleashed a thundering shot into the goal. Greenwood completed his hat-trick with Cannock's fourth and fifth.

Cannock Ladies 3rd XI 4
Uttoxeter Ladies 2nd XI

Cannock Ladies 3rd team moved up to sixth place in Staffordshire Ladies Division One after a convincing 4-0 win thanks to a an Ellie Bradbury double as well as goals from Michelle Woodward and Shannon Deakin.

Promotion hopefuls stunned by students

Exeter University XI 4 Cannock 1st XI 3
CANNOCK will be desperately disappointed with their away-day in Devon. Exeter University are sitting bottom of the National Premier League, but provided difficult opponents in the home leg.

Cannock started well, scoring two goals in the first 15 minutes courtesy of strikes from Matt Plunkett and Arjan Chana – only days after his 18th birthday.

Unlucky to concede a short corner, Exeter took advantage of the good luck and promptly scored low in the bottom right corner.

Although still in charge, Cannock missed a couple of open-goal opportunities which gave hope to the Devon students who again equalised from their second short corner.

Moments after the restart Exeter won another scruffy short corner and took the lead with a deflected shot above the helpless Patrick Smith in the Cannock goal.

Cannock began to dominate but were careless around the opponents' area and struggled to make their possession count.

Cannock did get back on level terms when Dave Harris scored from a short corner. But the students quickly took the lead again.

The last 15 minutes were played in the Exeter half but Cannock lacked the cohesion to trouble the deep-lying defence.

Cannock stay in second and travel to Manchester to play Bowdon on Sunday (March 11) at 2.15pm.

Youngsters turn on the festival style

CANNOCK Juniors took their under-eights and under-10s sides to take part in a festival organised by Lichfield Hockey Club.

It was the first opportunity for them to play against opposition after bad weather had forced the cancellation of previous fixtures.

Cannock U8s The Cannock side were considerably younger and smaller than the other teams, having an average age of about six.

They faced schools with entire teams made up of eight-year-olds. But the difference did not affect the determination of Cannock, who, following a nervous start, grew in confidence with each game.

After two draws and two narrow defeats, the under-eights played their final game and with some fine attacking hockey took the lead when Tommy Bhagerutty pounced on the rebound from his brother Oliver's powerful strike.

Unfortunately Cannock hearts were broken 30 seconds from the end when Stafford Prep School scrambled an equaliser past the unsighted keeper, to deny them a deserved victory.

Undefeated in three of their five games, Cannock's youngest side showed a good deal of promise for the future. They were ably supported by enthusiastic parents, for which coach Rufus Horn was extremely grateful.

Special mention should go to Harry Michael from the under-10s, who guested in goal in all five games, providing stability at the back.

The side was Pete Hill, Daniel

The young stars from Cannock U10s enjoyed a 2-0 win against Lichfield

Savage, Lucy Norwood, Oliver Bhagerutty, Arjan, Tommy Bhagerutty and Liam Cooke.

Cannock U10s A big well done and thank you to the team who took part: Roshan Drayton-Chana, Molly Hill, Josh Jones, Jenna Martin, Harry Michael (GK), Luke Stacey and Lily Walker.

The team of mixed experience, who had never played together, found the first game difficult. Despite losing 3-0 to Burton they showed great determination as they went into their other games. They all worked extremely hard to produce some great defending and team-play, with a big well done to goalkeeper Harry Michael for a number of fine saves. With this continuing hard work, they got a well-deserved 2-0 win against Lichfield, both goals coming from great finishes by Roshan Drayton-Chana.

This rounded off a really enjoyable day and all those players involved should feel very proud of themselves as they all showed what a great future Cannock Hockey Club has got.

£20,000 stock a boost for anglers

BLACKFORDS AC have recently completed a comprehensive stocking programme at Kingswood Lake, investing more than £20,000 in fish species including tench, rudd and bream.

Club members should enjoy prolific sport once the fish have settled into there new environment, writes Vernon Leadbetter.

They are also stocking the Turf pool with some additional carp later in the year.

New season membership starts from May 1 and tickets will be on sale in late April.

There will be a couple of new rules regarding fish welfare and we will be featuring these in this column in the next few weeks.

Sponsored by Archline Angling

Fishing Tackle Stockists

Fishing reports have been a little patchy recently but Calf Heath has continued to produce carp to those anglers making the effort to get out on the water.

Local bailiffs Gary Kuzmicz and Phil Russell had a few carp into double figures on a recent trip and James Massey had a 10-fish haul on a day session last week.

For all the fair weather anglers now is the time to start thinking about dusting off the tackle and getting it ready for the new season.

It's been a while since the last report, we have been busy moving from Bridgton to our new store on Brindley Business Park, Chaseside Drive – just off the A460 Cannock to Hednesford road.

Let us know how your fishery is fishing or get them to contact us if they would like a mention on 01543 426158, or call into the store, or email info@archlineangling.co.uk

Town net a win double

Hednesford Town U10s 2
Brownhills Community Colts 1
 HEDNESFORD made a bright start and a goal from Luke Baugh saw them go in at half-time with a deserved lead.

Colts levelled after the break but Town responded with Baugh bagging his second to seal victory.

Hawkins Sports 0
Hednesford Town U10s 1
 A first-half goal from Cameron Osborne helped Town bag their second win of the day.

A man of the match display from Thomas Cope, some fine goalkeeping from Ethan Goddard and relentless defending from James Moore and Connal O'Mahoney saw Town home.

Broomhill sweep away Yates in cup-tie

Cannock Chase Cup Round Four
 SECOND division Broomhill Albion deservedly knocked out Premier League Yates Sports 3-2 to reach the quarter-finals. Dave Hudson's bullet of a header opened the scoring before his side were then reduced to 10 men after 20 minutes. Yates equalised but the second-half performance of Broomhill saw them rewarded with goals from Wayne Durnell. Yates pulled a goal back but found it hard to break Broomhills defence as they pulled off a great cup upset. St Matthews knocked out Cheslyn Hay 4-1 with goals from Pete Robinson, Rob Lakin, Daniel Rock and Gavin Jones.

Ron Terry Cup Quarter Final
 Relegated second division side Crystal Fountain, without a win in the league, recorded a shock 3-0 victory to knock out title-chasing Louis Auto's from division three.

Premier League
 A first half goal from Mark Eusten was enough to put Rugeley Utd on top of the league as they beat Pelsall Bush. Red White & Blue drew 1-1 with Breston Social.

Division Three Cup Semi Final
 Cheslyn Hay Athletic fought back from 2-1 down to knock out

Crunch victory keeps the Pitmen in the mix

HEDNESFORD are neck-and-neck with the play-off chasers in the Evo-Stik Northern Premier after a much-needed win at Whitby.

With Chorley and Northwich both winning on the day, the Pitmen needed three points just to stay level with their rivals.

With that in mind, a first league win since January 21 couldn't have come soon enough for Rob Smith's men and the visitors pressed from the start.

They dominated proceedings in the opening half and would have been disappointed to go in at the break goalless.

First, a strong tackle by Jay Denny set up Chris Clements to jink past two defenders and curl a shot inches past the far post.

Nick Wellecome battled past Mark Robinson to get to the ball but saw his shot well saved by goalkeeper Nick Liversedge.

Wellecome was again involved on the half-hour mark as his knock down teed-up Ben Jevons but he snatched at his shot and saw it fizz wide of the post.

A minute later, a superb cross by Elliot Durrell was met by Gary Hay but Liversedge stretched brilliantly to deny Hednesford again.

Whitby, buoyed by the fact they were still on level terms, came out a changed team after the break and dominated for long periods.

A lack of communication between Darren Campion and goalkeeper Dan Crane presented Jamie Clarke with a great opportunity.

The striker should have given the home side the lead

Whitby 0 Hednesford 2

on 66 minutes, but his shot rolled agonisingly wide.

Whitby were in the ascendancy, with a turn and shot by Clarke missing the far post by inches.

The Pitmen rode the storm and a touch of class from Jamey Osborne crucially opened the scoring with 14 minutes to go.

He ghosted in field beyond three challenges and stroked a left-footed shot past Liversedge.

Whitby pushed for an equaliser but Hednesford looked dangerous on the counter attack.

Their second goal came when Wellecome, whose initial shot was saved by Liversedge, squared for substitute Mark Beesley to finish into the roof of the net.

Whitby Town: Liversedge, Hassan (Lyth 81), Robinson, Burgess, White, McTiernan, Portas, Beadle, Clarke, Appleby (Smith 73), Mulligan. Subs not used: Williams, Leeson, Campbell, Hednesford: Crane, Osborne, Campion, Dunkley, Johnson, Denny, Durrell (Langdell 73), Clements, Wellecome, Hay (Geesley 45), Jevons (Blakeman 86). Subs not used: Bailey.

Burntwood boys are stripped for action

Burntwood Rugby Club U13s are all kitted out after striking a sponsorship deal. The Cannock and Lichfield District Local Association branch of the teaching union NASUWT have stepped forward to supply the new strip.

Another win but it goes to the wire

Aston Old Edwardians 12
Burntwood 13

BACK-TO-BACK away wins for Burntwood keep their hopes of avoiding the drop from SSE Midlands 2 West Northvery much alive.

As the scoreline suggests, this was a close run contest with the result hanging on the final kick.

Having just taken the lead in the last minute of normal time, the visitors then had to watch the home kicker take a penalty attempt at goal seven minutes into added time.

He had landed four out of five attempts but this effort hung in the wind to drop short. Craig Seedhouse cleared to touch to end the game much to the visitors' relief.

Both sides took a while to settle down. Each lost a put-in at their own scrum and handling was proving difficult in a strong crosswind.

The first threat came from turnover ball won by skipper Graham Shelley on eight minutes. Rhys Morgan made good progress through centrefield but his support players infringed.

Converted

However, there was a better outcome four minutes later following a line-out take by Lloyd Shelley. Prop Rob Cartwright went on the charge to earn a penalty, which Matt Wood converted for the opening points.

Both sides took a while to settle down. Each lost a put-in at their own scrum and handling was proving difficult in a strong crosswind.

Promising positions were lost by both sides for much of the half as the error count mounted and it was not until the closing moments the score changed dramatically.

First, AOE levelled the scores with a penalty but straight from the restart, Wood chipped over the home defence and re-gathered to set up an attacking ruck.

Scrum half Brett Taylor passed to hooker Morgan and he raced to the right corner for an excellent try to put his side 8-3 up at the break.

Early infringements in the second resulted in two successful penalty kicks of AOE.

Burntwood produced an excellent move from a line-out. Skipper Shelley fed Hal Gozukucuk on the charge and he found Morgan who took play close to the try line.

Frantic defence kept them out but at the cost of a yellow card for a winger but Burntwood could not capitalise.

An AOE penalty took them further ahead at 12-8 but with time running Taylor chipped through and followed up to touch down close for the winning try.

Then came the agonising wait and the missed penalty.

Hayes are back on track with a victory

Heath Hayes 2 Studley 1
HEATH HAYES bounced back to form with an impressive victory over Studley in the Midland Alliance.

After a run of poor performances Hayes were back to their best to beat a Studley outfit who arrived on the back of a four-game unbeaten run.

It was the home side who drew first blood after 15 minutes when, after some good build-up play, Steve Allen fired home a cross from Ben Porter.

Dave Waple was inches away from doubling Hayes' lead when his effort was scrambled clear.

At the other end, Tom McNulty made an excellent save to deny Paul Dowsett.

But Dowsett was not to be denied a goal and he headed home the equaliser moments later.

Hayes restored their lead after 38 minutes with a goal good enough to grace any game.

A six-man move through midfield ended with Luke Jones producing a peach of a cross for Andy McMath to head powerfully into the roof of the net.

The second half was just as competitive but neither side could add to their tally.

Thomas Lacy had a good chance for the visitors but dragged his shot wide, while Chris Geldart and McMath both hit the woodwork for Hayes and Dave Waple was denied by a super save from Richard Taylor.

McDonalds go large to help players

CANNOCK TOWN Juniors U8s have been given a helping hand by their local McDonald's restaurant, which has provided team with a new kit and coaching equipment.

Dean Hayes, Business Manager of the local McDonald's in Cannock has stepped in to support the club, as part of the McDonald's community football programme. Cannock Town Juniors coach Stuart May said: "We are very grateful to McDonald's for the much-needed equipment and I am sure it will give us a real boost for the rest of the season."

As Community Partner of The FA, the McDonald's programme has created 20,000 qualified football coaches and supported the coaching of over one million children.

Scholars taught a lesson by the Pics

Chasetown 0 Rushall 4

CHASETOWN'S Staffordshire Senior Cup hopes were ended at the semi-final stage by an in-form Rushall outfit.

With several key players injured and cup-tied, the Scholars faced a tough task to reach the final but made a lively start in a fast-paced opening that saw plenty of end-to-end action.

Rushall keeper Chris Gemmell was called into action to end two home attacks before the visitors threatened when Craig Bannister fired wide of the target.

Chasetown keeper Mariusz Kiesel palmed away Luke Bottomer's effort on 15 minutes before Richard Teesdale saw a shot blocked at the other end, with Scott Lycett sending the follow-up over the bar from a tight angle.

The visitors took the lead on 19 minutes when former Scholar Alex Melbourne latched onto a through ball from Luke Bottomer and fired beyond Kiesel.

Bannister doubled the Pics' advantage on 32 minutes, breaking through the Chasetown defence and rounding Kiesel to slot calmly home.

Lee Wright came close to pulling one back for the Scholars but his effort was somehow twice cleared off the line by the Pics defence as were several more attempts from the hosts following a couple of corners.

Rushall were still in attacking mode in the second half, Melbourne just denied by Kiesel at the near post. But five minutes later Bottomer made it 3-0 with a 25-yard screamer.

The visitors showed no signs of easing off and Bannister went close on 70 minutes when he fired over.

Rushall added a fourth late on when an attack down the right drew Kiesel out of his area and substitute Kyle Brady had little trouble in rounding Jack Farmer and slotting home.

Chasetown are in Evo-Stik League action on Saturday when they host Matlock Town (3pm).

Welcome return as Meiji bag medals

MELJI School of Excellence returned with an impressive medal haul from last weekend's BJA Samurai Tournament, held at Gilt Edge Leisure Centre, Kidderminster.

The judo club fielded seven competitors and claimed one gold, two silver and three bronze medals.

Meiji entered a range of Judokai from low grade junior members to high grade junior members.

Thomas Hudson struck gold with Khya Hudson and Callum Nahoor claiming silver.

Lewis Asling, Jack Finlan and Jasmine Turner returned home with bronze medals to show for their impressive efforts.

This was the first BJA competition the Meiji club has entered for the several years and Sensei Stewart Hogg, third Dan black belt, was keen for his judokai to do well.

The atmosphere for the event was fantastic and the venue was packed with skilled fighters from all over Britain with the action keeping the spectators on the edge of their seats.

Many of the BJA competitors were waiting for their opponents to make the slightest mistake before they took their opportunity.

But Meiji's determination and training paid off as they fought really well with some impressive throws and ground work.

Meiji School of Excellence train twice a week at Burntwood Leisure Centre on Wednesdays from 6pm - 8pm and at Hayes Green Community centre (by Tesco's) on Fridays between 6:30 pm - 8:30pm.

Both classes are for adults and children and the club welcomes people of all abilities.

NEW-BOYS CAN FIRE PUSH FOR PLAY-OFFS

HEDNESFORD manager Rob Smith today backed his January additions to start bearing fruit as the club prepare for their fixture list to go into single figures.

The third-placed Pitmen will have just nine games left to make sure of their Evo-Stik Northern Premier League play-off place after Saturday's visit of Northwich Victoria.

The stakes are high going into the weekend's promotion clash at Keys Park with both sides locked on 61 points with Chorley, who are fourth on goal difference.

Northwich missed one chance to get a tighter grip on second spot after they were surprisingly beaten 4-1 at mid-table Kendal on Tuesday night.

Martin Foyle's men still have two games in hand but Smith's side could strike another off at their visitors' expense with a home win on Saturday.

And the Pitmen boss believes he's starting to get the best out of defender Jermaine Johnson and striker Mark Beesley, after their arrival at Keys Park last month.

Johnson has struck up a good partnership in central defence with the highly-rated Cheyenne Dunkley, who was on trial at Championship club Birmingham recently.

Beesley finally got off the mark in last Saturday's 2-0 win at Whitby, after six games without a goal for the club, adding to the 13 he netted for Burscough earlier in the season.

Smith said: "Jermaine is getting better with each game and there is a good partnership building with him and Cheyenne."

"It was also great to see 'Bees' score. He has deserved that for the rest of the season."

As Community Partner of The FA, the McDonald's programme has created 20,000 qualified football coaches and supported the coaching of over one million children.

his overall work and performances in the past few weeks."

The Whitby win was more than just relief for Beesley, it also lifted a huge weight off the back of Smith and the club as a whole.

The team had gone five games without a win since last month's victory at league leaders Chester, the hosts' only home defeat of the season in the league.

Just two points in that period allowed the rest of the chasing pack to play catch up on the Pitmen, who were level on points with Chester after beating them.

Saturday's clash is just their fourth home game in the league this year and Smith admitted long spells on the road have proved tough on the players.

He said: "The players aren't getting carried away, that's for sure. I think it was more a relief than anything."

"Away from home, you expect to come under pressure at times and we discussed this before the game last Saturday. Overall, we coped well with what Whitby threw at us and scored two quality goals."

Hednesford fans can have their say

The Hednesford Town Supporters Association will hold their monthly meeting tonight at Keys Park, starting at 7.30pm.

Members and non-members are encouraged to attend and have their say on how the club is run.

James' Maltese mission

CANNOCK schoolboy James Harper is set to tackle football on the international stage.

Harper, who goes to Cardinal Griffin Catholic High School, is heading across Europe to take in a tournament held for Catholic school children called the Fisec Malta 2012 Games.

The year 11 pupil, from Burntwood, will be playing for the Great Britain side between July 5 and 11.

Chris Heywood, PE teacher at the school in Cardinal Way, said: "Jim is a very popular boy at the school and he is an excellent sportsman and ambassador for the school and we all wish him the best."

Trials

The Great Britain team will be competing against 13 other international teams, which include France, Italy, Portugal, the USA, Brazil, India, Austria and Croatia.

The 16-year-old attended trials in Leeds and fought off stiff competition from around 90 other players to make it into the final Great Britain squad.

"At the last games they had more than 1,000 people competing in all the games, so it's a big deal," added Heywood.

Cardinal Griffin student James Harper has earned an international call up
